OPEN BORDERS

EVERYONE'S A CITIZEN

Imagine, it's now mandatory to pass a citizenship test in order to stay in the country. This is a reality. Since 2005 every immigrant must pass the UK Citizenship Test to demonstrate their grasp of the country's life, customs and culture. Every year 100,000 people take the citizenship test with only two thirds making the grade. This is the challenge...

Can you pass the test?

Do you tick all the boxes?
