

10:30 6TH APRIL 2013
LIBERTY HALL
1913-2013
REBUILDING A MOVEMENT
FROM BELOW

www.wsm.ie

FILMS
TALKS
STALLS

#

DABF

Dublin
Anarchist
Bookfair
2013

ORGANISED BY THE WORKERS SOLIDARITY MOVEMENT.
WWW.WSM.IE/BOOKFAIR

Order of Service.

(Doors open at 10:30am)

11:15 - 12:15

Main Theatre - 'Anarchism and the City' (Chris Ealham)

A talk exploring the reasons for the popularity of anarcho-syndicalism in its Barcelona stronghold in the period leading up to the 1936 Spanish revolution.

Room 2 - 'Free, safe and Legal'

A discussion about how the struggle for abortion rights can be fought both in Ireland and elsewhere.

12:20 - 13:20

Main Theatre - 'Thinking About Sex Work as Work'

Dr Laura Agustín on resisting the victimising of women who sell sex.

Room 2 - 'Organising The Unorganised
- some practical examples'

A look at the lessons to be learnt from organising people in precarious workplaces.

The Pint - 'The Art of Resistance: Image-ning a new Middle East'

An examination of the relationship of art to power in the Middle East, both as an expression of established power, and as a means of resistance.

13:25 - 14:25

Main Theatre - 'Fighting the Property and Water Taxes – how to fight and how to win'

An exploration of what type of campaign and campaigning is needed for the fight to be successful.

Room 2 - 'Facing Deportations – a practical workshop; how we can organise to prevent deportations'

Sharing the direct practical actions that need to be done to resist deportations and to raise awareness, unveil truths and correct misconceptions surrounding the issue of asylum application and deportation.

The Pint - 'Social history and social media'
(Come Here To Me!)

The three writers from the very popular Come Here To Me! Blog lead a discussion, based on personal experience, on Dublin's social history and on how new technology has helped change the way we research and disseminate history.

14:30 - 16:00

Main Theatre - 'Exploring the Legacy of 1913 and its lessons for today'

A panel of speakers look at the legacy of the 1913 lockout and its lessons for today's trade union movement.

Room 2 - 'Latin American Social Stuggles against mining'

This meeting is arranged in conjunction with the Latin American Solidarity centre. Two Latin American campaigners talk about the impact on their communities of exploitation by mega-extractive multinational corporations and how they organize to face this threat.

16:15 - 17:30

Main Theatre - 'Fighting Austerity in the PIIGS countries'

This meeting brings together a panel of speakers from the so-called PIIGS countries (Portugal, Ireland, Italy, Greece, Spain) – the EU's periphery – to share the stories of the struggles they are involved in and explore a vision of what is needed to change the world.

Room 2 - 'Queer Anarchism: Equality or Liberation?'

A talk which will discuss emergent radical queer politics which resist assimilation and question the foundations of gender and sexual identity

Sunday 7th April, Time: 2:30p.m.

"Finance Under Foot" Walking Tour

Starting point: Central Bank, Dame Street, Dublin 2

"Finance Under Foot" is a walking tour through Ireland's most important sites of financial power, past and present. The idea behind the tour is to make the nature of organised money power accessible, understandable and even entertaining. Your Tour Guides: Conor McCabe and Tom Murray

The Irish Anarchist Review No. 7 out now!

Articles include: 'The politics of Voices: Notes on Gender, Race & Class.'

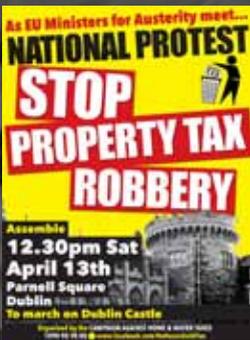

'Urban Politics and the Dublin Housing Action Committee: 1968-71'

'Avoiding Burn Out – Self-Care and Support in Activism'

'Locked Out: Dublin 1913'

'General strike – Protest of Process?'

'Review of Volume 2 of Anarchist FAQ'

Campaign Against Home and Water Taxes

The Government call it a Property Tax but it's really a tax on the family home and once they get the foot in the door with this tax it will only rise.

Join the national protest on April 13th and let the EU ministers of misery know that we are going to fight their austerity agenda.

Workers Solidarity Movement (Ireland)

@WSMIreland

website: www.wsm.ie